

UC Berkeley School of Public Health
Fall 2014 Research Symposium

A Second Chance in the Second Decade:
Adolescence as a Key Developmental Window to Transform Population Health

December 8th, 2014: 12:00 noon to 5:00 p.m.

David Brower Center: Tamalpais Room, 2nd floor

Come join us for lunch, comments from Dean Stefano Bertozzi, presentations by SPH faculty and guests, and wine and cheese/discussions to follow!

AGENDA

Noon

Registration, Lunch and Welcome from Dean Bertozzi

Session 1 - 12:30PM

I4Y: Innovations for Youth Locally and Globally

"Adolescence_v.2@UCB"

Colette (Coco) Auerswald, MD, MS.

Associate Professor, UC, Berkeley SPH and Co-Director, I4Y

"Adolescent Reproductive Health: Decreasing risk and optimizing prospects"

Ndola Prata, MD, MSc

Associate Professor, UC, Berkeley SPH

Director, Bixby Center for Population, Health and Sustainability, and Co-Director, I4Y

Session 2 - 1:15PM

Community-Based Participatory Research Approaches for the Promotion of Adolescent Health

"Integrating the 'Insider Expertise' of Adolescents in Innovative School-Based Interventions"

Emily Ozer, PhD

Professor, UC, Berkeley School of Public Health and Co-Director, I4Y

"Reducing teen girls' exposure to hormone-disrupting chemicals in make-up: the HERMOSA Study"

Kim Harley, PhD

Associate Professor, UC, Berkeley School of Public Health

Discussant:

Marguerita Lightfoot, PHD

Professor, UCSF School of Medicine and Director, UCSF Center for AIDS Prevention Studies

Session 3 - 2:15PM

Community-based structural interventions for youth health and wellbeing

"Transforming adolescents' food choices"

Kris Madsen, MD, MPH

Associate Professor, UC, Berkeley SPH

"Community violence and reproductive health among Latino youth: Connections and Prevention Directions"

Ali Minnis, PhD, MPH

Senior Research Epidemiologist, RTI International and Assistant Professor, UC, Berkeley SPH

Session 4 - 3PM

Adolescent Developmental Science Informing Public Health Tools

"Brains, Buddies, and Behavior: Implications for Adolescent Sexual Decision-Making"

Ahna Suleiman, DrPH Lecturer and Postdoctoral Fellow

UC, Berkeley School of Public Health

"The Developmental Science of Adolescence: Motivational Learning as a Window of Opportunity for Population Health"

Ron Dahl, MD, Professor, UC, Berkeley School of Public Health, and Director, Institute of Human Development

Discussant:

Pending

WINE AND CHEESE RECEPTION – 4:00 p.m.

David Brower Center Gallery